David became associated with theatre the age of 14. After 100 plays and a career as a professional engineer, David has become accustomed to meaty theatrical roles that include: Hancock's Last Half Hour..The Woman in Black..And many others.

David has performed and directed for CTG and the role of Hancock brings back many pleasant memories.

Alizah Pomery is happy to be back with CTG playing the 2nd Nurse/Doctor. Since joining the theatre when she was much shorter (younger), she was hooked! Some performances include Up Pompeii, Are You Being Served, Lipstick Dreams, The Asylum, 5 Lesbians Eating a Quiche and most recently Boeing, Boeing. Please sit back, enjoy the show(s) and maybe you'll get a cup of tea and a biscuit afterwards... maybe.

Petra's 40 years' experience as a Registered Nurse more than qualify her for her role as "Nurse" in "The Blood Donor". She has performed in more than 40 productions during her nursing career. These productions have spanned the globe from England to South Africa, to Hong Kong, New Zealand and now her first, here in Australia

Richard first trod the boards in 1968 in roles ranging from Shakespeare - as Duke Orsino in 'Twelfth Night', Malcolm in 'Macbeth' through Operettas to Theatre of the Absurd as the hopeless Lucky in 'Waiting for Godot' and the title role of Sloane in Joe Orton's black comedy 'Entertaining Mr Sloane'. In retirement, his hobbies and interests are painting, poker, golf, chess, fishing, theatre and as an Ambassador giving talks for the Heart and Stroke Foundation around SE Queensland

Alan has been Involved in Theatre since 1976. First production "The Real Inspector Hound". Four years part time course at Kelvin Grove in 1984 - ADPA at QUT Many years with ILT. My last production for CTG was "Spring Heeled Jack"

Like to be involved in set building, and keeping the grass round our theatre neat and tidy. He is a member of Ipswich Musical Theatre, in his spare time.

Julia is a retired pharmacist with a passion for theatre; writes plays. English accent genuine.

It is always with great delight I am able to direct great British Comedy.

Act 1

Alone in his Sydney apartment with plentiful stocks of Vodka, the lad from East Cheam casts a bleary eye over his wrecked career and marriages before swallowing the last handful of pills.

This black comedy will bring back memories of the lovable Lad and his last day.

Act 2

Tony Hancock's last BBC series in 1961 contains some of his most remembered work and "The Blood Donor" is often said to be the best. There are many among you who are donors, so the little subtleties will have you laughing.

David who plays Tony took his role seriously he donated blood but also flu shot same day, what could go wrong!!? What followed was Hancock to a t.

I trust you enjoy this production and the actors who have worked so hard...."oh Sod it! Just watch the show!"
